Message from

Message du Gouverneur Général

As the patron of the Alcuin Society, I am always pleased to extend warmest greetings to its members, as well as to the authors, designers and publishers of the books selected for the 2013 Alcuin Awards for Excellence in Book Design in Canada.

I am an avid bibliophile, and while each page of a book reflects the efforts and the talent of the graphic artists behind its creation, I think it is almost impossible for the uninitiated to properly appreciate the scope of their work. One thing is certain, however: thanks to their fertile imagination, and a judicious use of colours and textures, graphic designers open up a window for us on the images that add such a special dimension to the words they accompany.

The winners of the Alcuin Awards for Excellence in Book Design were not chosen by happenstance. Experts in the field carefully examined every aspect of the books on the short list, to discover this year's rare gems that will expand the outreach of Canadian expertise and raise the bar for graphic design at home and abroad.

I congratulate the award winners and the Alcuin Society board members on their commitment to the vitality of the Canadian cultural sector. Good luck to everyone in the running for the international awards!

David Johnston

À titre de président d'honneur de la Société Alcuin, c'est toujours un plaisir de saluer ses membres, ainsi que les auteurs, les concepteurs et les éditeurs des œuvres retenues pour les Prix pour l'excellence de la conception graphique du livre au Canada 2013.

Je suis un grand amateur de livres, et si chaque page d'une œuvre témoigne des efforts et du talent des graphistes derrière leur création, je pense qu'il est presque impossible pour les non-initiés de bien saisir toute l'ampleur de leur travail. Une chose est néanmoins certaine, grâce à leur fertile imagination, à un usage judicieux de couleurs et de textures, les graphistes nous ouvrent une fenêtre sur des images qui ajoutent une dimension inédite à l'écriture.

Ce n'est pas le fruit du hasard si les lauréates et lauréats ont été choisis comme ayant les meilleures conceptions graphiques au Canada. Des experts en la matière les ont soigneusement examinés, sous toutes leurs facettes, afin de découvrir les perles rares qui contribueront au rayonnement du savoir-faire canadien, et d'élever la barre de la conception graphique ici et à l'étranger.

Je tiens à féliciter les gagnants de ces prix ainsi que les membres du Conseil de la Société Alcuin pour leur engagement envers la vivacité de la sphère culturelle canadienne. Bonne chance à tous ceux et celles qui sont en lice pour les prix internationaux!

Son Excellence le très honorable
David Johnston

This year, the 32nd annual competition, The Alcuin Society Awards for Excellence in Book Design in Canada, was held. Our Society is grateful to this year's judges—Susan Colberg, Seth, and Jessica Sullivan—for volunteering their time and expertise. They met in Vancouver on April 12th, 2014, at Simon Fraser University, Harbour Centre, and selected 37 winning books out of 232 submitted, from 8 provinces and 107 publishers. Each one, published in Canada in 2013, represents the work of a Canadian designer. As in other years, some of the technical production, for example printing, was done outside the country.

Last summer the award-winning books from our 2013 Competition were sent to the Stiftung Buchkunst in Frankfurt-am-Main, Germany. They participated in the international book design competition in Leipzig. We were delighted to learn that the Stiftung had short-listed two of the Alcuin submissions. We congratulate Mark Goldstein, designer (Toronto, ON): Form of Forms, by Mark Goldstein (BookThug); and Andrew Steeves, designer (Kentville, NS): Love and the Mess We're In, by Stephen Marche (Gaspereau Press).

The Alcuin Society thanks everyone who submitted books. Copies of the winning books are donated to the W.A.C. Bennett Library at Simon Fraser University, to support the University's programs at its Canadian Centre for Studies in Publishing; to the E.H. Norman Library in the Canadian Embassy (Tokyo); and to the German Book and Type Museum in Leipzig. They become part of the permanent collections of all three libraries. Special thanks go to publishers of the winning entries, for providing extra copies of their books to the Society for use in its exhibitions throughout the coming year.

The fundamental principle of our judging process is that each book must be considered as a total entity. The judges examine every aspect of each book. Their purpose, and ours, is to encourage the very best in Canadian design, and they feel that giving awards only where they see exceptional merit is the best way to achieve this goal.

April 2014

Cette année, marque le 32e anniversaire du concours annuel, le Prix de la Société Alcuin pour l'excellence de la conception graphique du livre au Canada. Notre Société voudrait exprimer sa gratitude envers les membres du jury de cette année, Susan Colberg, Seth et Jessica Sullivan qui nous ont offert leur temps et leur expertise. Ils se sont réunis à Vancouver le 12 avril 2014, à Harbour Centre (Université Simon Fraser) et ont choisi 37 livres gagnants parmi les 232 livres soumis par 107 maisons d'édition, dans 8 provinces. Chaque livre, publié au Canada en 2013, est la création d'un concepteur graphique canadien. Comme dans les années précédentes, certaines parties de la production technique, par exemple l'impression, peuvent avoir été réalisées à l'étranger.

L'été dernier les livres gagnants de notre concours de 2013 ont été envoyés à la Foire du livre de Francfort, à Francfort-sur-le-Main en Allemagne. Ils ont été inclus dans le concours international de la conception du livre à Leipzig. Nous avons été ravis d'apprendre que, parmi les livres soumis par la Société Alcuin, la Stiftung en a placé trois sur leur liste des ouvrages sélectionnés. Nous félicitons les personnes suivantes : Mark Goldstein, graphiste (Toronto, ON) : Form of Forms, de Mark Goldstein (BookThug); et Andrew Steeves, graphiste (Kentville, NS) : Love and the Mess We're In de Steven Marche (Gaspereau Press).

La Société Alcuin remercie tous ceux qui ont soumis des livres. Un exemplaire de chaque livre gagnant est offert à la bibliothèque E.H. Norman de l'ambassade du Canada à Tokyo et au Musée allemand du livre et de l'écriture à Leipzig, ainsi qu'à la bibliothèque W.A.C. Bennett de l'université Simon Fraser, afin de contribuer au travail des programmes universitaires de son Centre canadien d'études de l'édition. Ces livres font partie des collections permanentes des trois bibliothèques. Nous remercions, tout particulièrement, les maisons d'édition des livres gagnants qui nous fournissent des exemplaires supplémentaires de leurs livres destinés à des expositions organisées par la Société tout au long de l'année.

Selon le principe fondamental de notre processus d'évaluation, chaque ouvrage doit être jugé dans son entièreté et par conséquent, les membres du jury examinent toutes les composantes du livre. Leur but, ainsi que le nôtre, est d'encourager la meilleure conception graphique au Canada ; ils estiment que la façon la plus valable d'achever ce but est de ne décerner de prix que lorsqu'ils发现 des qualités exceptionnelles.

How To

The designer seized every available opportunity to impress with this charming book. The endpapers are bold and beautiful, the text is sensitively placed, and the overall impression is one of balance—clearly the result of careful thought.

Murilla Gorilla, Jungle Detective

This close runner-up has a vintage feel that harkens back to classic children's books. The endpapers are exceptional, and the design and placement of the text spring organically from the illustrations, all of which creates a very pleasing effect.

Wild Berries = Pikaci-Minisa

The charming illustrations were clearly created and put together with great sensitivity, and wonderful results, especially on the dust jacket. Every element throughout the book is well-integrated, making for an aesthetically lovely package.

Circles of Round

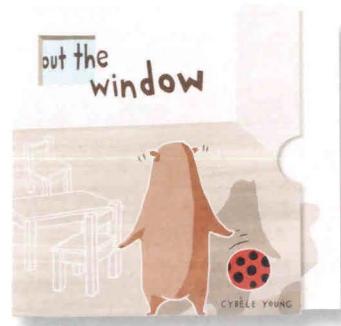

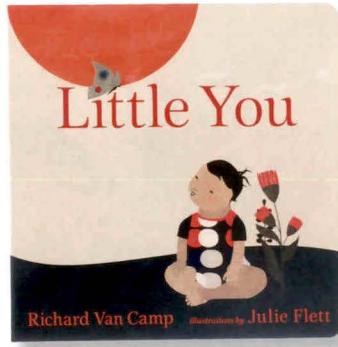

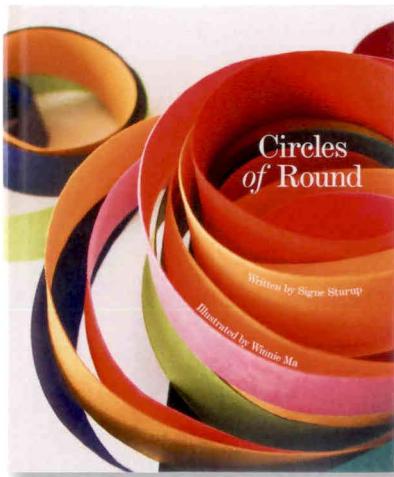

This is an inventive and ambitious design that uses unusual elements, such as a photo on the title page and the image of 3-D paper curling, to offer moments of pure delight, for the adult as well as the young reader.

Little You

This book smartly emphasizes the illustrations. Each is a successful composition in its own right; the text is functional and never invasive. The effect is a solid, quiet beauty that can be appreciated by any age.

Out the Window

This is a very cute book with something of a nostalgic feel. The accordion-fold format is inherently pleasing—a smart choice for a book aimed at a younger age group.

How To

Dans ce charmant livre, le graphiste a saisi toutes les occasions possibles pour nous séduire. Les gardes sont belles et audacieuses, la mise en place du texte est délicate et l'ensemble donne une impression d'équilibre, le résultat d'une sérieuse réflexion.

Murilla Gorilla, Jungle Detective

Ce deuxième prix évoque un style « vintage » qui fait rêver aux ouvrages pour enfants de style classique. Les gardes sont exceptionnelles et le design et la mise en place du texte jaillissent tout naturellement des illustrations pour créer un effet très attrayant.

Wild Berries = Pikaci-Minisa

Les charmantes illustrations, clairement définies et assemblées avec délicatesse, produisent d'excellents résultats, surtout sur la jaquette. Tout au long du livre, les éléments bien intégrés créent un ensemble ravissant.

Circles of Round

Un design astucieux et ambitieux qui utilise des éléments insolites, tels une photo sur la page de titre et l'image en relief 3D d'une bande de papier enroulé, qui offrent au lecteur adulte, aussi bien qu'au plus jeune, des moments de pure joie.

Little You

Ce livre fait judicieusement ressortir les illustrations qui sont chacune de composition fort réussie. Le texte est fonctionnel sans jamais être envahissant. L'effet obtenu est celui d'une beauté robuste et sereine qui peut être appréciée par les lecteurs de tout âge.

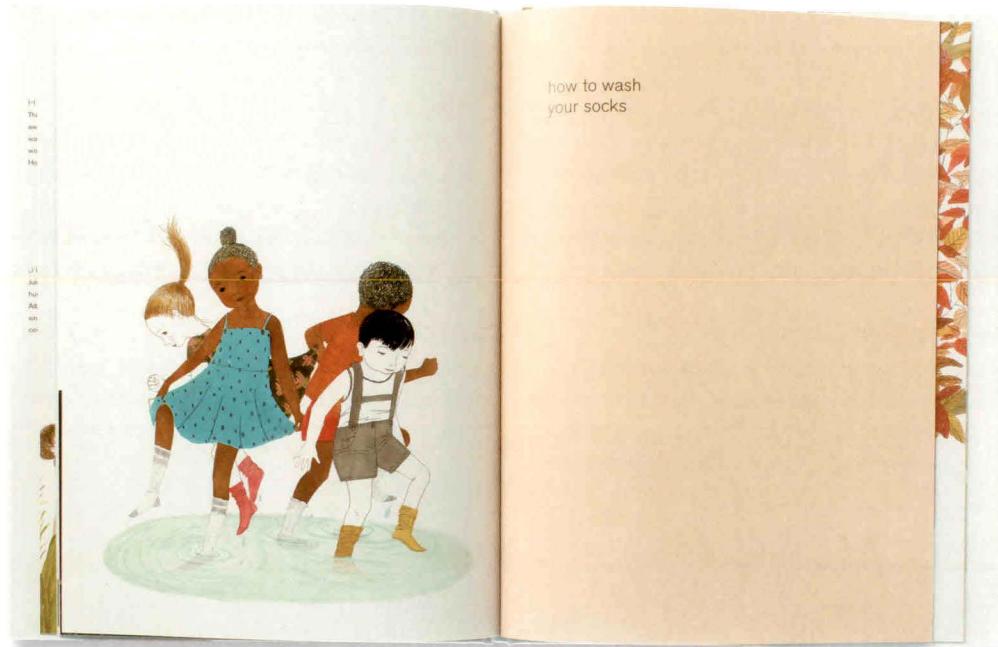

Out the Window

Un livre adorable qui évoque la nostalgie. Le pliage en accordéon, agréable de par sa nature, est un choix judicieux pour un livre destiné à des plus jeunes.

Black Star

Purposeful, technically excellent composition pushed this book to the fore. The cover (particularly the halftone on the cover cloth) and the size, placement, and pacing of the images are very good and made even better by strong production values, exemplified by the beautiful paper and binding.

Pressing Matters

For the second- and third-place prizes the judges chose a book from both the “traditional” and “experimental” camps. Representing the former, this is an example of a very specific style of a traditional private press book, done very well. The page structure is elegant, the use of colour creates visual interest, and the typography is very strong.

Résidus visuels

The concept of this book is inherently interesting—a book composed solely in relief—but the elegant austerity of the design lets it transcend the novelty created by the lack of ink, and approach the realm of fine sculpture.

Tin Roof

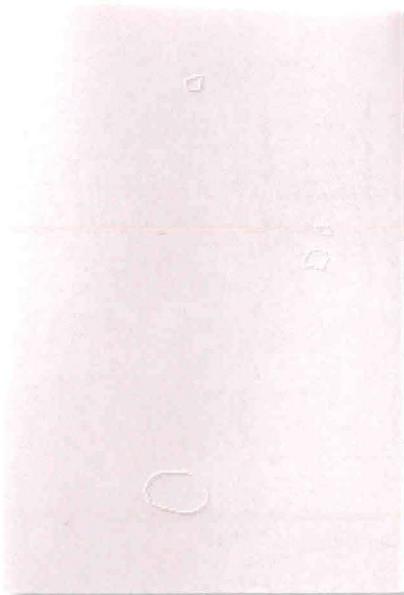

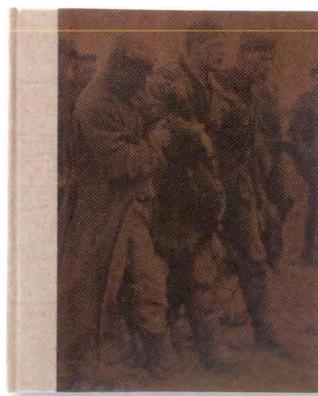

The composition of this “traditional” design is excellent. The quality of the typography and printing are very high, contributing to the book’s elegant, understated style.

Shift: Processes

Clearly drawing inspiration from the zine aesthetic, the designers here display tremendous inventiveness with their often unorthodox choices, using, for example, a single colour in some volumes. The result is a high-energy design with a wealth of contrast and variety.

The 85 Project

This is an ambitious exploration of the text, a well-executed work that displays evidence of considerable effort. The composition is engaging, the accordion-fold format seems appropriate for a visual experiment, and the books feel satisfying in the hand.

Black Star

Ce livre s'est fait remarquer par sa composition réfléchie et excellente du point de vue technique. Il se distingue par la dimension, la mise en place et l'espacement des images et par sa couverture (surtout la demi-teinte de la toile). Le tout est mis en valeur grâce à une production supérieure comme le démontrent le superbe papier et la belle reliure.

Pressing Matters

Pour ce qui est des deuxième et troisième places, les membres du jury ont choisi un livre de style « traditionnel » et un autre de style « expérimental ». Celui-ci est un exemple très bien exécuté dans le style très particulier d'une presse privée traditionnelle: la structure de la page est élégante, l'usage de la couleur crée un effet visuel intéressant et la typographie est très forte.

Résidus visuels

Le concept à la base de ce livre, composé uniquement en relief, est en lui-même intéressant. Mais, l'élégante austérité du design lui permet d'aller au delà de la nouveauté que représente un texte où l'encre est absente pour atteindre la sphère de la fine sculpture.

Tin Roof

La composition de ce design « traditionnel » est excellente. La qualité de la typographie et de l'impression de très haute qualité contribue au style sobre et élégant de ce livre.

Shift: Processes

Les graphistes, qui s'inspirent clairement de l'esthétique zine, démontrent ici un prodigieux esprit d'invention par leur choix souvent peu orthodoxes, comme lorsque, dans certains volumes, ils utilisent une seule couleur. Le résultat est un design de grand dynamisme plein de contrastes et de variété.

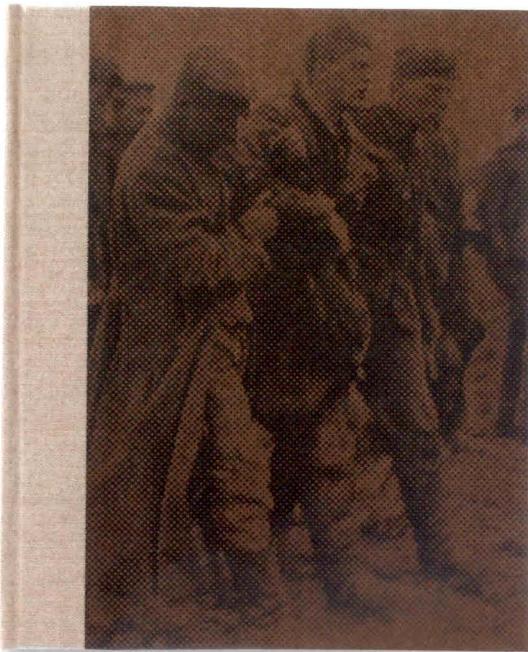

The 85 Project

Une exploration ambitieuse du texte et un travail bien exécuté qui fait preuve d'un effort considérable. La composition est engageante, l'usage des plis accordéon semble pertinent puisqu'il s'agit d'une expérience visuelle et les volumes sont agréables à manier.

BLACK STAR | GRAYBAR DAYS

agency. "The summer of 1941 changed my life," Howard wrote some forty years later. "Black Star opened a new world."

The denizens of this new world were the top photographers in the field and soon Howard was assisting the likes of W. Eugene Smith, Philippe Halsman and Fritz Goro. His nascent career was sidelined, however, by the outbreak of war. Howard enlisted in the U.S. Army Air Forces and served for three years at a base in England. At war's end he would return once and for all to Black Star and the beginning of an era he would memorialize as the "halcyon days" of the great picture magazines. With capacious photographic essays such as Leonard McCombe's "The Private Life of Gwyned Filling", Gordon Parks' "Harlem Gang Leader" and Smith's landmark "Spanish Village", Life had matured into a medium of meditative photojournalism.

As the fifties progressed, Howard worked at the business of coralling photographers and cultivating clients and pondered his role and ambitions for Black Star. Knowledge and experience, Safranski had lectured, informed perception. At the crossroads of visual language and human events Howard would find the purposefulness of this admonition.

In 1953, twelve years after Howard's initiation into the "new world" of Black Star, his younger cousin Ben filled the storied position of assistant-messenger boy. Irving Wertheimer was again the fateful liaison, but this time the new recruit's assimilation turned out to be incremental and hesitant.

Black Star had served as Ben's summer job throughout high school and upon graduation Mayer asked him to stay on. "I said no," Ben recounted. "My father was an attorney and I had always wanted to be a lawyer. I got into the New York University School of Law – which was a very good school. I never hated anything so much in my life." Dismay and rebelliousness resulted in bad grades whereupon the university and the student mutually concluded that this was not, after all, his true vocation.

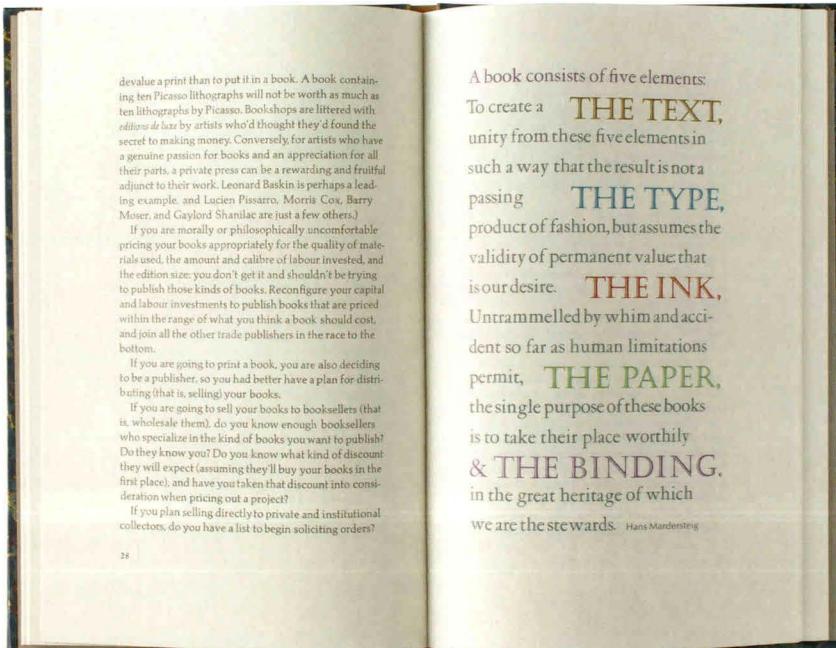

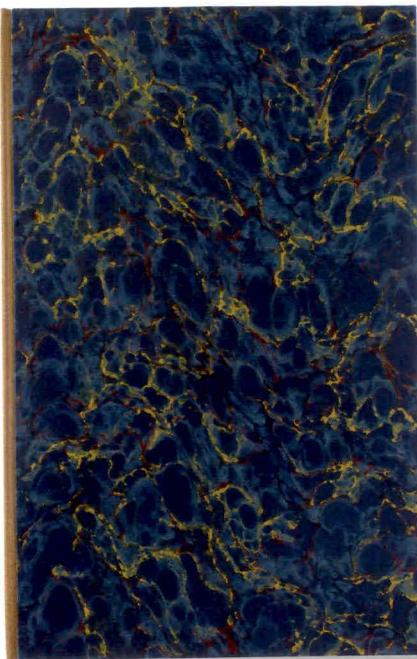

Again Mayer extended an invitation and again it was declined as Ben set off for Fort Dix, New Jersey for basic training in the Army Reserve followed by communication instruction at Fort Gordon, Georgia. Just before his discharge, a registered letter arrived with an offer of sixty-five dollars a week. Thus, in the spring of 1960, on the third go-around, a career was born.

BLACK STAR | GRAYBAR DAYS

The initial plan was to open a European headquarters for Black Star in Paris with Ben at the helm, but the scheme never materialized. Instead, Ben Chapnick worked to stake out his claim on Forty-Seventh Street.

Kurt Kornfeld

Annual reports and corporate accounts had never been considered a part of Black Star's business; at most, they serviced the occasional needs of a few companies who wanted pictures for their in-house magazines. Ben saw annual reports as an untapped market and, with a billing rate anywhere from two to

DO, MAKE, THINK, SHARE DESIGN DECLARATION

My last year as a design student was a year of blood (it cut off my finger), sweat (my bag weighed an average of 20 pounds), and tears (no excuse). It was also a year of trying new things, meeting new friends, and figuring out what I meant by a graphic designer. This year offered a very different and experimental form of research. I made a few observations. These observations led me to write a manifesto of sorts, which in turn lead to a series of hand printed posters that were created using digital and hands-on processes. The following is my manifesto.

GET YOUR HANDS DIRTY
Today, the majority of graphic design is sanitized, safe, conservative and largely divorced from its origins in art. Experimentation with physical materials can lead to new possibilities. By working with your hands, you make discoveries and learn lessons that you might have otherwise missed.

SHARE YOUR WORK!
Create original content instead of relying on stock images and pre-made templates. This prevents unintentional copyright violations and gives you total control of the work you produce. By creating your own inventory of original content, the images you use will better suit your design. And, you get all the bragging rights!

EXPERIMENT, FAIL, RINSE, REPEAT
In design, the pressure to be constantly upgrading software and learning new shortcuts often stops designers from focusing on making mistakes. Mistakes are mistakes, just like a pencil or a pen. Embrace them. Try new methods and processes along with new technology to make your work more unique and thoughtful.

FIND LIFE BEYOND THE SCREEN
Designers spend a lot of time staring at computer screens. Don't forget to go out on a walk, read a book, flip through a magazine, go out and find inspiration. Talk, debate, critique, praise and discuss your work with people in person.

DON'T BE A DICK
This is the golden rule of being a graphic designer. You can have all the skills in the world, and a spectacular vocabulary to back up your work, but if you're an asshole, no one is going to want to work with you period.

MARTA RYCZKO

In design, the pressure to be constantly upgrading software and learning new shortcuts often stops designers from focusing on making mistakes. Mistakes are mistakes, just like a pencil or a pen. Embrace them. Try new methods and processes along with new technology to make your work more unique and thoughtful.

JUST FUCKING MAKE SOMETHING
Don't forget to have fun. Surround yourself with people who encourage you to develop and hone your skills. Creating stuff without the added pressure of outside expectations is so important. Just make stuff without caring who sees it and what it looks like in the end. You might be pleasantly surprised.

BACK IT UP
Yes, design is often intuitive, but you must be able to speak about your decision-making process clearly. You should talk to your reasoning behind a particular font or colour. Because if looks good, just won't cut it.

SHARING IS CARING
The concept of sharing is at the heart of graphic design. As designers we have to share our concepts and ideas with our clients and other designers. I believe schools and design studios that don't actually have integrated programs that encourage sharing, collaboration and exploration within different fields of the creative industry. There is a wealth of knowledge that can be acquired by combining talents and disciplines, especially from creative people outside of graphic design.

More Than Two (Let It Make Itself)

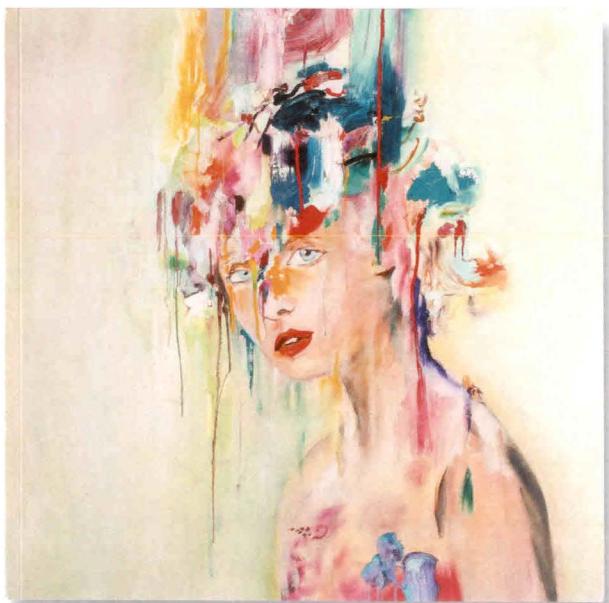

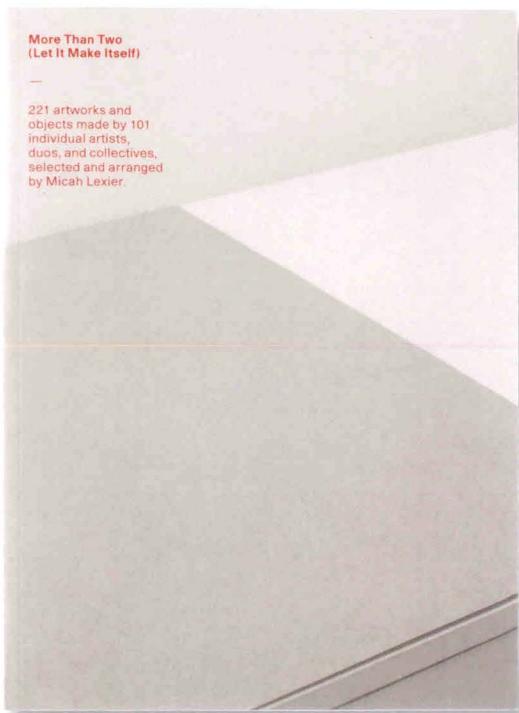

The minimalist aesthetic of this book is the result of many canny choices, including the halftones that, through savvy printing, reinforce the understated feel. The paper is well-chosen, the typography is dynamic, and the contrast between the front and back covers is perfect.

Mélanie Rocan: Souvenir involontaire

The introduction of an expansive colour palette is risky, but here it works: colour is used in an original and intriguing way that appropriately complements the images and extends even to the fore-edge, producing a successful “candy-coated” feel.

Irene F. Whitteme: Room 901

This is a very ambitious design; the spine and pasteboard are well done, the front matter looks great, the pacing of the images is just right, and the production values are high.

More Than Two (Let It Make Itself)

Les membres du jury estiment que l'esthétique minimaliste de ce livre est le résultat de choix astucieux comme celui de la demi-teinte qui, grâce à une impression assurée, renforce l'apparence de sobriété. Le papier a été justement choisi, la typographie est dynamique et le contraste entre la première et la quatrième de couverture est parfait.

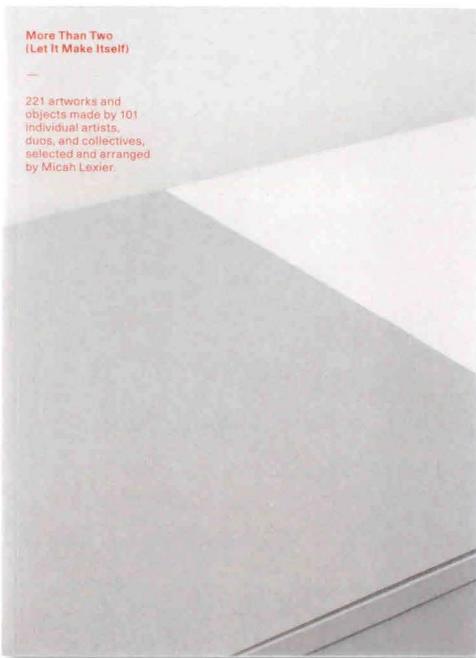

Mélanie Rocan: Souvenir involontaire

L'introduction d'une gamme exhaustive de couleurs est risquée, mais dans ce cas c'est réussi: l'usage original et étonnant de la couleur, qui s'étend même jusqu'à la gouttière, met les images en valeur pour produire l'impression de bonbon enrobé.

Irene F. Whittome: Room 901

Un design très ambitieux: le dos et le carton contre-collé sont bien achevés, les pages liminaires ont une belle allure, la cadence des images est impeccable et la production est de haute qualité.

The Deer Yard: A Winter Cycle

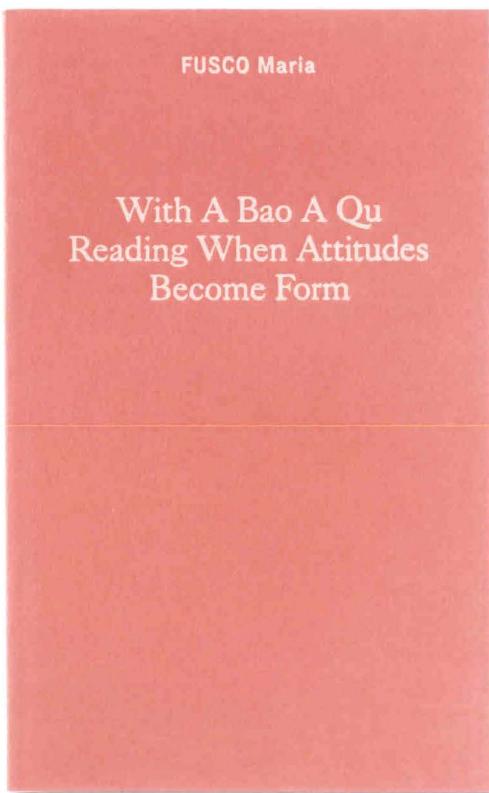

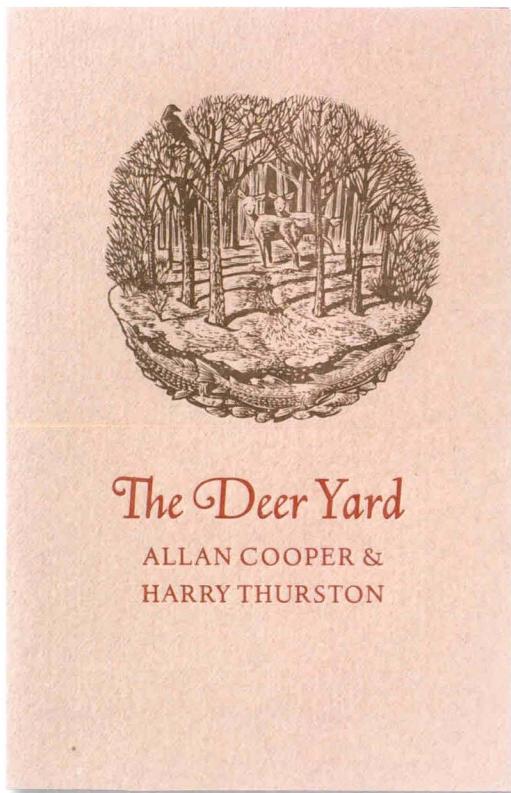

This book warmed the judges' aesthetic hearts. It is designed with a tasteful, traditional, perhaps "old-fashioned" approach that, while seen less often these days, is eminently suitable to the subject matter, and works here to create an elegant, high-quality book.

With A Bao A Qu: Reading When Attitudes Become Form

In contrast with the first prize, this book displays a much more "cool," avant-garde design; it made the judges excited to read it and nearly propelled it to first place. The aesthetic—stark but interesting, restrained and yet bold to the point of being "in-your-face"—provides evidence of a clear and committed stance on the part of the designer.

Ocean

The design here is relatively simple, but always includes an elaborate element—like the striking silver graphic pattern on the black cover—that adds a touch of the baroque. The integration of the graphics in the front matter and the use of a second colour in the interior are standout features of a tasteful, cohesive design.

The Deer Yard: A Winter Cycle

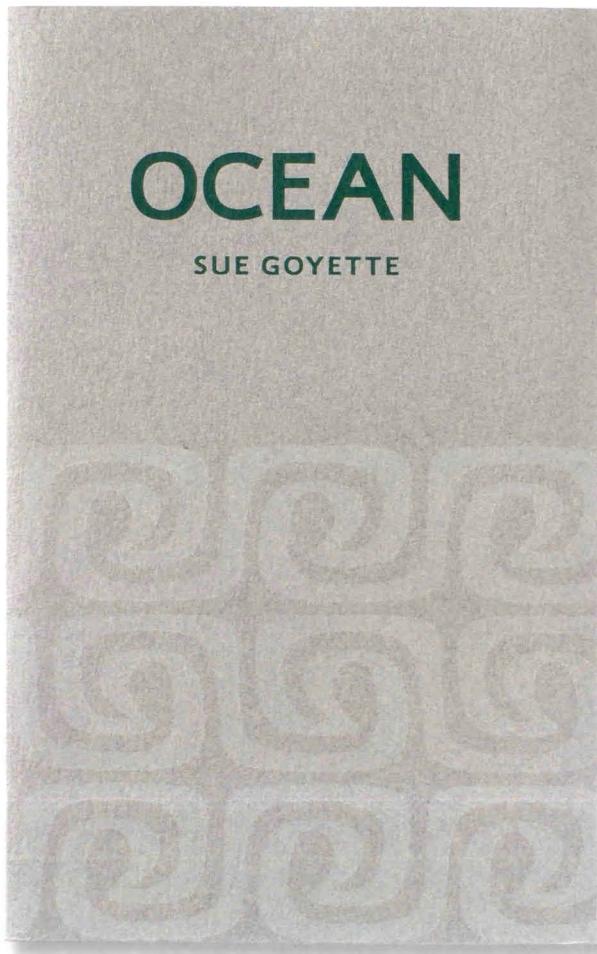

Ce livre a réchauffé le cœur artistique des membres du jury. Sa conception raffinée, traditionnelle, peut-être même « vieux jeux », et que l'on voit rarement de nos jours, se prête éminemment bien au thème et réussit à créer un livre élégant de haute qualité.

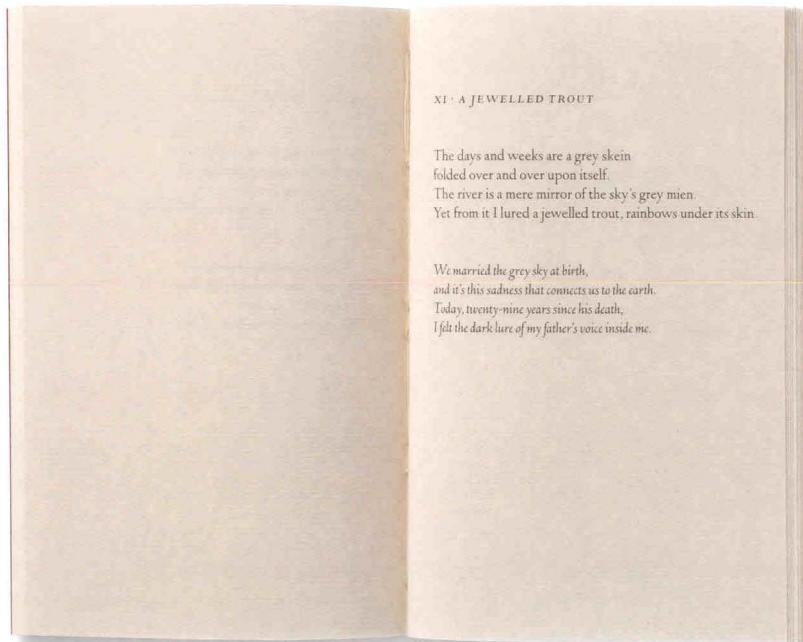

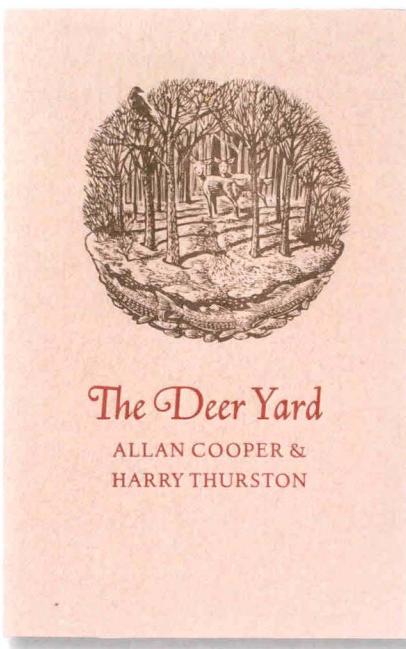

With A Bao A Qu: Reading When Attitudes Become Form

Par contraste avec le premier prix, ce livre affiche un design d'avant-garde, bien plus « cool », qui a éveillé chez les juges l'envie de le lire et lui a presque valu la première place. L'esthétique austère, mais intéressante, mesurée, et pourtant, audacieuse au point d'être agressive, manifeste la position claire et engagée du graphiste.

Ocean

Le design ici est relativement simple, mais inclut toujours un élément recherché, comme le saisissant motif graphique couleur argent sur la couverture noire qui ajoute une touche de baroque. Le traitement graphique dans les pages liminaires et le recours à une deuxième couleur à l'intérieur sont les attributs marquants d'un design raffiné et harmonieux.

MARIA FUSCO

Série Nova: 10 novellas

Every aspect of this series of novellas impressed the judges. The production values are excellent. The covers offer some courageous design choices (for example the limited colour palette) that make for a beautifully integrated series. The typography is outstanding, with generous margins and a pleasing scale to the elements. Even the barcode is "sexy."

Petitot: A Novel

The design of this quiet and traditional book is exciting. The silver-on-black boards grab your eye from the start, while the page structure, treatment of caps and small-caps, and large headings and folios all contribute to the elegant and very readable pages.

Someone Somewhere

On the cover, some subtle effects interact with the light to give the design an intriguing depth. In the interior, the layout is elegant, balanced, and solidly typeset. The placement of the running heads on the recto and the folios on the verso is a clever touch.

Wigrum

This is an ambitious design that may divide readers, but the judges appreciated the riskier choices, starting with the perhaps-illegible cover title, which is smartly compensated for with vertical type on the spine. The interior illustrations are cleverly handled; placing them in the margins creates something of a "catalogue" feel that is very interesting in a work of fiction.

The Dilettantes

The visual interest of the cover typography carries over to the title page, creating a pleasing sense of continuity. The interior is clean and easy to read, and the map on the inside back cover is a charming treat for the eyes.

The Son of a Certain Woman

This book has a number of interesting elements that demand attention, especially in the opening section, which features excellent endsheets and unexpected and ambitious typographical treatments.

Série Nova: 10 novellas

Chaque aspect de cette série de novellas a impressionné les membres du jury. La qualité de la production est excellente. Le design des couvertures révèle des choix courageux (par exemple, une palette de couleurs limitée) qui permettent un bel ensemble bien intégré. La typographie est remarquable par ses marges généreuses et des éléments aux dimensions agréables. Même le code à barres est « sexy ».

Petitot: A Novel

La conception de ce livre discret et traditionnel est séduisante. Les plats en argent sur noir attirent immédiatement le regard, tandis que la structure de la page, la réalisation des majuscules et des petites capitales, les gros titres et les folios contribuent tous à l'élégance et à la haute lisibilité.

Someone Somewhere

Sur la couverture, des effets subtils réagissent à la lumière pour donner au design une intensité surprenante. Dans le corps de l'ouvrage, la mise en page élégante et équilibrée est composée avec rigueur. Le placement des titres courants sur la belle page et celui des folios sur la fausse page ajoute une touche astucieuse.

Wigrum

Ce livre est d'une conception ambitieuse qui risque de diviser l'opinion des lecteurs, mais les membres du jury ont apprécié les choix les plus risqués, à commencer par le titre peut-être illisible sur la couverture, mais que les caractères verticaux sur le dos compensent astucieusement. Dans le corps d'ouvrage, les illustrations sont judicieusement placées dans les marges donnant ainsi au livre l'allure d'un catalogue, allure intéressante pour une œuvre de fiction.

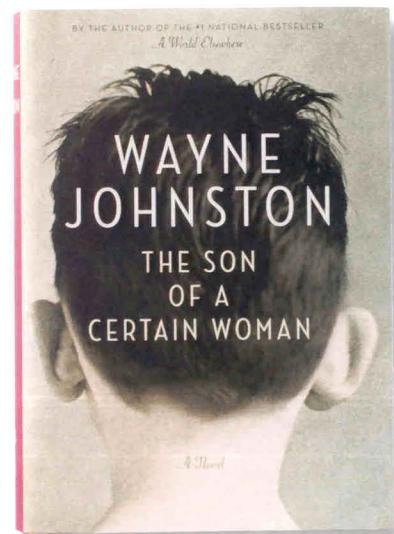

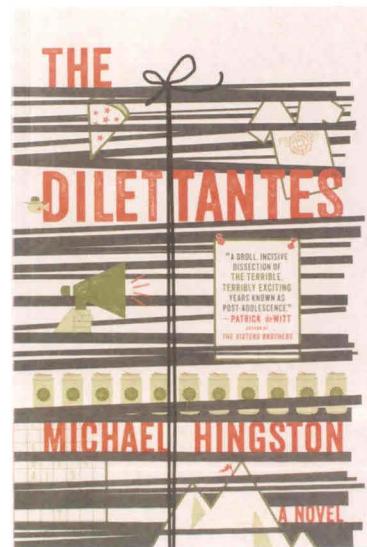

The Dilettantes

L'intérêt visuel de la typographie sur la couverture s'étend à la page de titre et crée une impression agréable de continuité. Le corps d'ouvrage est net et facile à lire et la carte en troisième de couverture est un vrai plaisir pour les yeux.

The Son of a Certain Woman

Ce livre offre un nombre d'éléments intéressants qui attirent l'attention, tout particulièrement les premières pages qui mettent en vedette d'excellentes feuilles de gardes et une conception typographique ambitieuse.

J'observe le vide sous mes pieds, les rails, des vaches, le paysage qui se modifie, moins d'immeubles en ruines, de slums, une nature plus poliee m'indiquant que nous nous rapprochons. De retour près de Pascale, je suis pris d'une agitation qui lui paraîtrait suspecte si elle n'avait pas déjà saisi que le pays nous retourne sans relâche comme des crêpes. J'entonner des airs connus dont je change les mots, je croone, Sinatra fou braque, et j'en rajoute en voyant revenir un sourire sur son visage, j'en rajoute et le Mandovil Express ne recule pas. Nous rapaillons nos bagages avec conviction dès qu'il s'immobilise et confirme notre arrivée en un morceau à la gare Magdaon.

GOA est l'autre nom de l'Éden. Les Portugais y ont laissé leur empreinte, et il y flotte une manière d'être, un rapport au temps qui nous paraissent d'abord comme des anomalies. C'est le plus petit État du pays, le quatrième moins peuplé, un rêve balnéaire. Des routes minuscules bordées de chapelles, une architecture douce, colorée. Des fleurs pour les fous, les fins et les voyageurs qui débarquent hirsutes, hébétés, incertains de sentir un jour d'autres parfums que celui de la chaux versée par les cheminots pour désinfecter les rails, d'autres odeurs que celle de l'oppression. Nous nous installons au Kenilworth d'Urtoda. Nos poumons n'ont besoin que de quelques heures pour décompresser, et nos têtes, de bons vieux mojitos. Nos corps sont faits pour la piscine, la piscine a été conçue pour nos corps, et c'est sans remords que nous y passerons la prochaine dizaine. La nourriture est exquise, l'endroit, peu fréquenté puisque nous sommes en basse saison. Les conditions sont réunies pour nous faire accepter le farniente. Chaque soir après le souper que nous mangeons autour de vingt et une heures, une longue ripaille où se mêlent le naan, le curry jaune, des Kingfisher et le dessert, nous marchons lentement dans le noir sur les sentiers qui longent la piscine, traversent le terrain, bordent la plage. Nous nous accouturons à ce rythme paresseux, nous lever, aller au lit quand bon nous semble, nous soustraire au tohu-bohu, ne pas être harangués aux quinze mètres. Du lever au coucher du soleil, de grands oiseaux blancs guettent le poisson en décrivant des cercles sur la mer d'Arabie. Au crépuscule, ils se dissimulent à la cime des palmiers et nous les narguons en déclenchant le flash de l'appareil-photo. Ils enragent et nous imitons leurs cris, puis c'est une menace concertée qui monte des arbres, leurs reproches fusant des feuillages que percent leurs yeux rouges. copy of the Bible. In the autumn of 1989, he made the acquaintance, in the square where the Prague Spring took place, of American biologist Errol Gould, visiting professor at Charles University in Prague and McGill University in Montreal, which many Americans studying there (and their parents) call "Fey League North."

The two young men entered into a long debate, obviously to no end, on the question of creationism. (Gould's wife quickly slipped away from the initiated debate and divorced her husband soon after their return to Montreal.) Gould invited his religious counterpart to come by the university, where he would attempt to prove the reasons for his faith in evolution by analyzing the genetic substance of the leaf he grabbed out of Odd's hands, who passionately abandoned it to punctuate his speech.

The results of the analysis troubled Gould profoundly. The leaf's genetic signature seemed to simultaneously correspond to that of two trees, one on the McGill University campus, the other in the garden of the Strahov Library in Prague. In fact, the data seemed to indicate that this leaf had grown on two trees simultaneously. Their surprising meeting marked the beginning of a long friendship. Once back in Montreal, Gould sent Odd leaves from the tree on the McGill campus. Odd found their replica in Prague and dispatched them to his biologist friend.

They never saw each other again, yet maintained a correspondence for over a decade. They continued their debate, one in the name of faith, the other in the name of science. Odd raised metaphysical questions: "Is it possible for a soul to exist twice?" Gould called the practical into question: "Before mentioning, even once, the soul, we should admit that we do not even possess the measure of this phenomenon."

Jeremiah Bancroft at Fort Beauséjour & Grand-Pré
The cover is understated yet engaging, aided by strong typography and composition. Inside, the contrast between type sizes is very effective, the inherent trickiness of the footnotes is nicely resolved, and the paper colour is warm and inviting.

The Once and Future World:
Nature As It Was, As It Is, As It Could Be
This is a very comfortable and well-organized book. The folios, margins, and text block work together to create an elegant, very readable page. The small line illustrations are adeptly handled, and the judges very much enjoyed the use of the elephant.

The Writing Life: Journals, 1975–2005
The judges loved the dust jacket and the cover, as well as the clear, simple boards and the considered treatment of the interior.

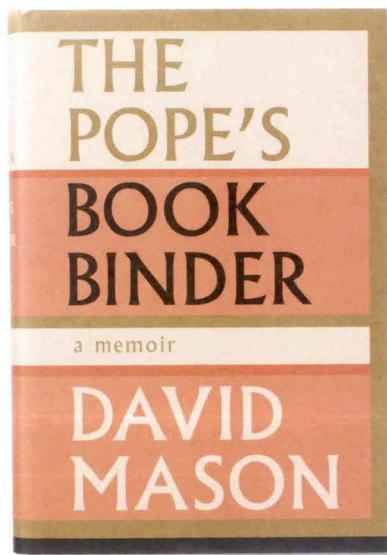

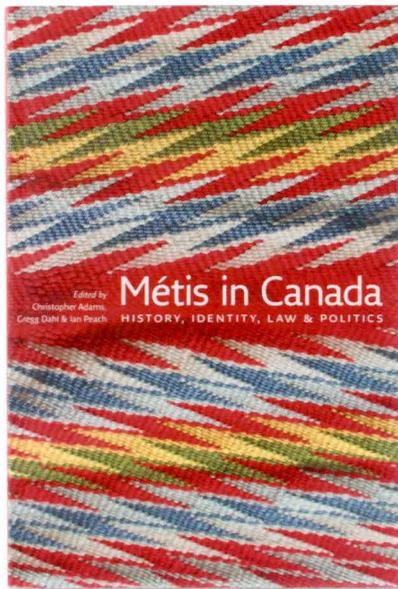

Jeremiah Bancroft at Fort Beauséjour & Grand-Pré
Tout en étant discrète, la couverture est attrayante grâce à une typographie et une composition solides. À l'intérieur, le contraste entre les différentes tailles des caractères est très efficace, les difficultés inhérentes aux notes en bas de page sont bien résolues et la couleur du papier est chaude et attrayante.

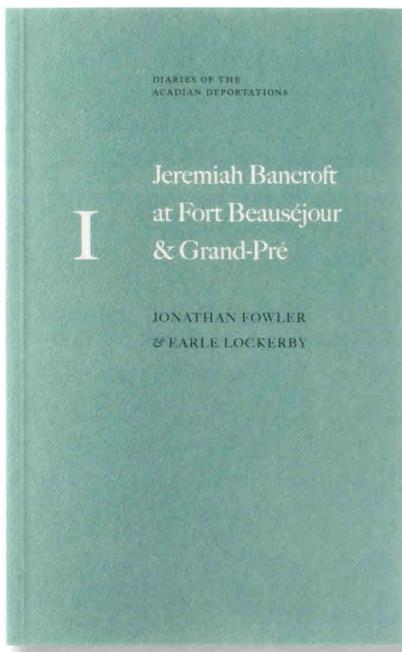

The Once and Future World:
Nature As It Was, As It Is, As It Could Be
Un livre très agréable et bien organisé. Les folios, les marges et le bloc de texte s'harmonisent pour créer une page élégante et de haute lisibilité. Les petits dessins au trait sont habilement mis en valeur et les juges ont beaucoup aimé la façon dont la graphiste se sert de l'éléphant.

The Writing Life: Journals, 1975–2005
Les membres du jury ont adoré la jaquette et la couverture ainsi que les plats sobres et l'exécution habile de l'intérieur du livre.

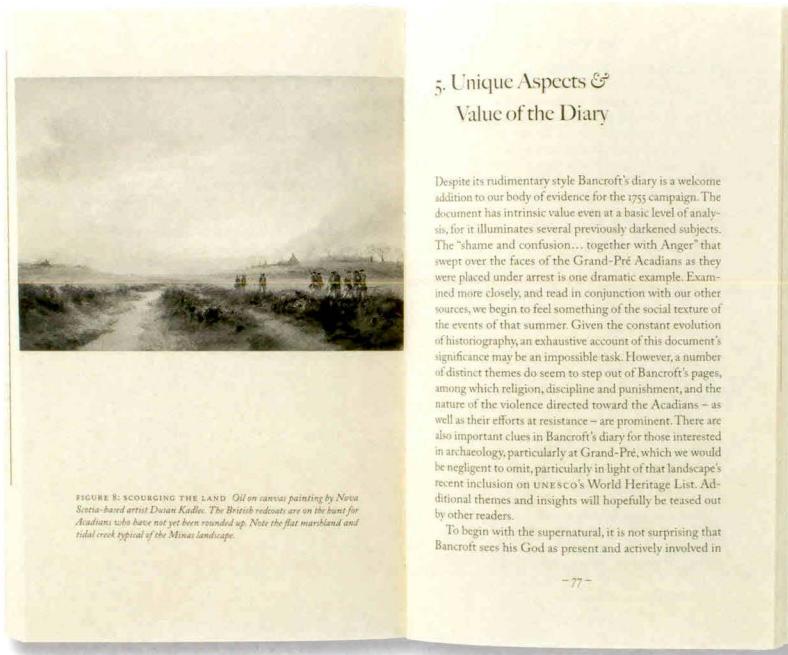

Métis in Canada: History, Identity, Law & Politics
La forte hiérarchie visuelle est un aspect marquant de la typographie à l'intérieur de ce livre d'apparence raffinée et accomplie. Dans son ensemble, le livre projette une conception discrète, et pourtant assurée.

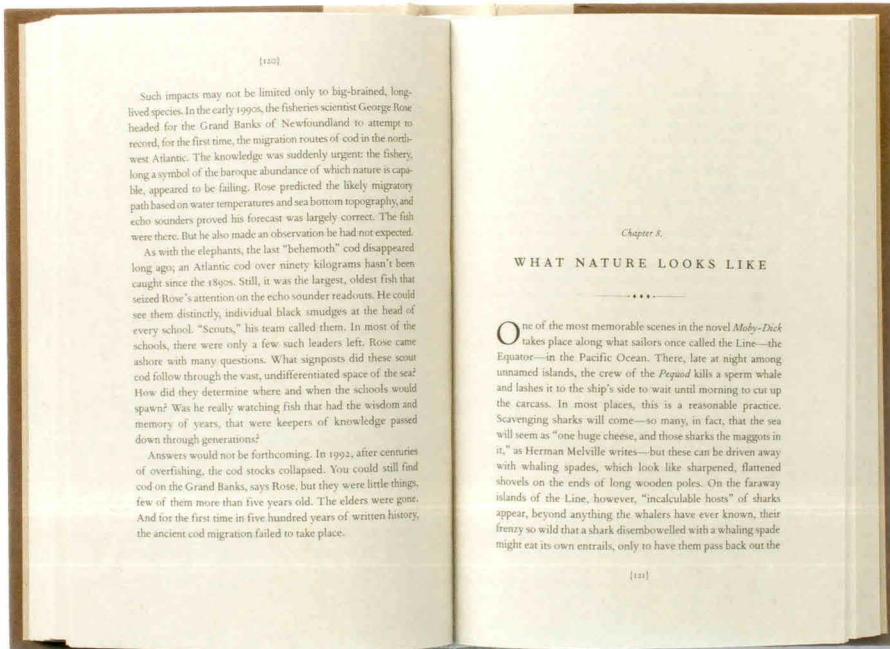

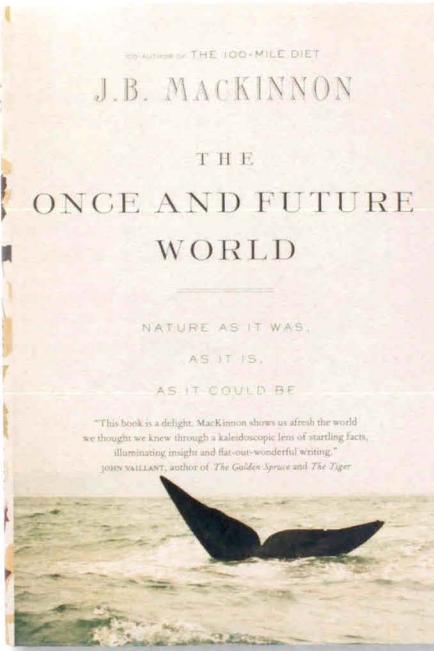

The Pope's Bookbinder: A Memoir
La couverture est parfaite pour ce livre: l'allusion qu'elle fait au design anglais du milieu du 20e siècle évoque une nostalgie qui convient parfaitement au contenu et se marie merveilleusement avec la peinture sur les feuilles de garde.

Warehouse Journal Vol. 22

In this book, there is a wealth of diverse and complex material presented in a smart and visually interesting layout. No space is wasted, yet there is enough white space that the page never feels crowded or overwhelming. The minimalist cover is stylish and error-free, "like a good suit."

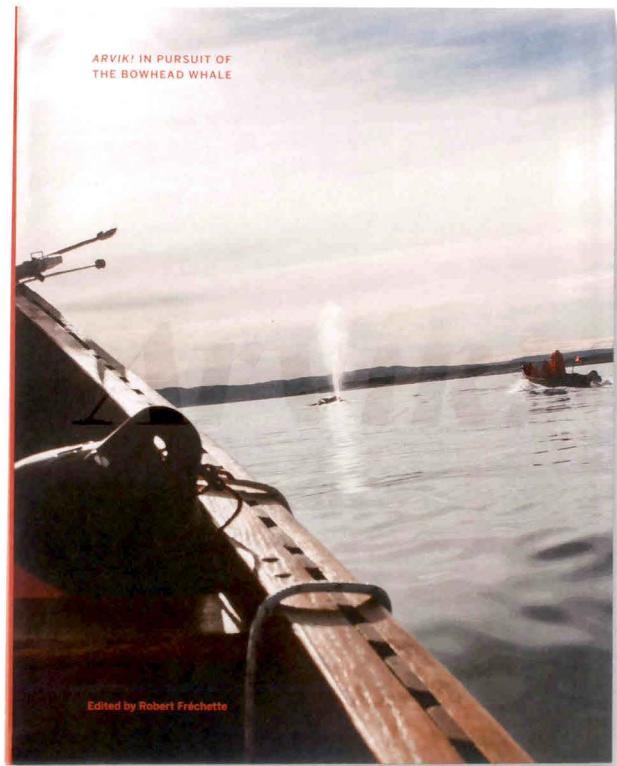

Arvik! In Pursuit of the Bowhead Whale

The unusual image choice and spot gloss on the title make for a very interesting, non-traditional cover. The slight sheen to the paper is an appropriate choice, the white space is generous, and the red elements are deployed to great effect.

The Seghers Collection: Old Books for a New World

This is a successful reference work; the images are treated as artifacts, making them clear and easy to view. The contents are well-organized, and colour is applied very effectively, especially in the case of the hits of red on the cover.

Warehouse Journal Vol. 22

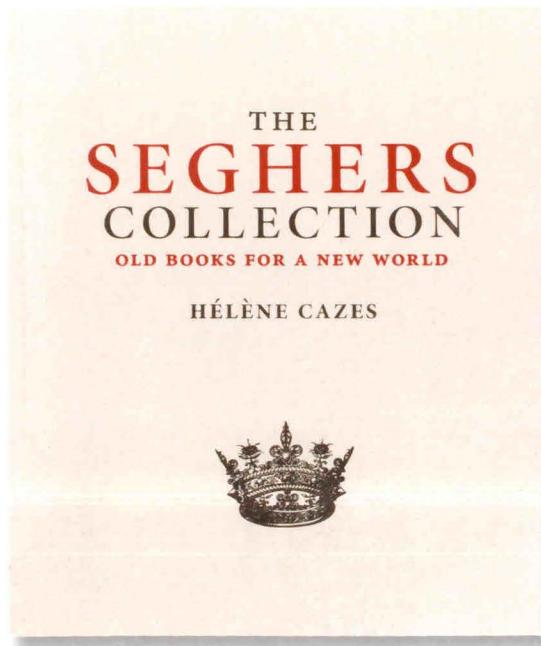

Ce livre est riche en matériaux divers et complexes que fait valoir une mise en page élégante et visuellement intéressante. Aucun espace n'est gaspillé et pourtant, il y a suffisamment d'espace blanc pour que la page n'apparaisse jamais trop remplie ou envahissante. Comme « un costume bien taillé », la couverture minimaliste et sans erreur a du chic.

Arvik! In Pursuit of the Bowhead Whale

Le choix peu commun de l'image et de vernis sélectif sur le titre crée une couverture intéressante et peu traditionnelle. Le papier légèrement brillant est un choix judicieux, l'espace blanc est généreux et les éléments rouges font un bel effet.

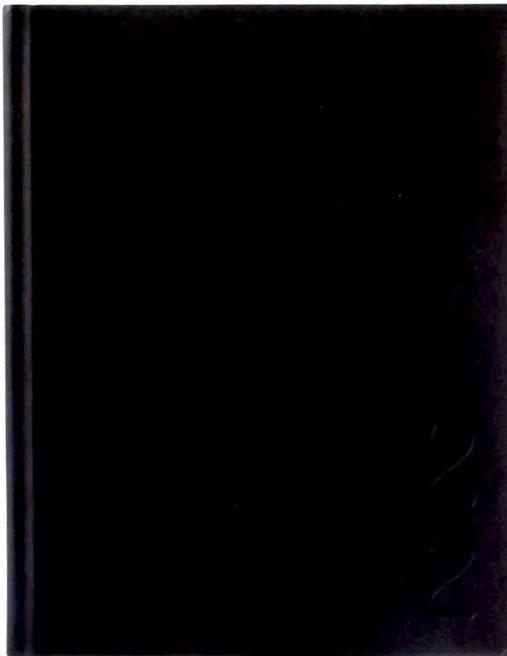

The Seghers Collection: Old Books for a New World

Un travail de référence réussi: les images ont été abordées comme des objets d'art, clairement visibles. Le contenu est bien organisé et la couleur est appliquée d'une façon très efficace, en particulier, dans le cas des touches de rouge sur la couverture.

HOTEL - BOARDING

Project 2

Using the Drake Hotel in Toronto as a precedent for the product development, it was determined that the hotel's product for Drake International would be a leather-bound notebook. The design of the Drake Hotel, this product would be simple, clean, hardware-free and minimalist. The notebook would be bound in a traditional, stitched style, with a textured, embossed surface of the leather. The two tools to create a leatherage was created by the Drake hotel's interior designer, which incorporated a leather stamping machine and a leather die. The leather die would allow for the integration of logo or theme with an art piece. A leather stamping machine would be used to create a leather pattern. The leatherage would be from the hotel, which operates a coffee shop, Drake's 820 Bistro.

Drake Winnipeg's branding is characterized by a number of historical and contemporary influences. The hotel's name is derived from the original Canadian owners of Drake Winnipeg from the opportunity to purchase hand-painted designs of the wallpaper prints. These designs are unique to the hotel and are also used in the interior design of the lobby of the Drake General Store in Bloor. Like many of the novelty products, these designs are also used in the exterior of the hotel. The leatherage also has strong effects on the aesthetics of the Drake brand. A variety of original designs of the wallpaper will make the hotel and necessarily reflect the original prints at the time of its opening. The leatherage is a mix of colors and various combinations, each reflecting the unique print found around the original 820 Bistro.

Project 3

Drake International's marketing strategy is to create a sense of "the real". With this in mind, the Drake's 820 Bistro logo is printed on the back of the leatherage.

Project 2

Given the Michelberger Hotel is a budget hotel, the idea product would be a budget notebook. The notebook would be a simple, clean, hardware-free notebook. The notebook would be bound in a traditional, stitched style, with a textured, embossed surface of the leather. The two tools to create a leatherage was created by the hotel's interior designer, which includes a leather stamping machine and a leather die. The leatherage would be from the hotel, which operates a coffee shop, the Michelberger Market.

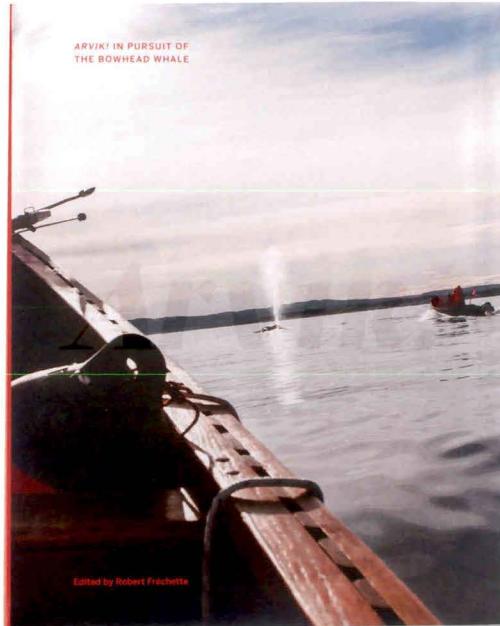

The design of the hotel features Hunter-style furniture, created by the hotel's interior designer. The notebook would be primarily made of my leathering technique, and metal would. To increase the texture and quality of the leather, the leatherage would be stamped with a leather die. The leather die would be used to create a leather pattern. The leatherage would be from the hotel, which operates a coffee shop, the Michelberger Market.

"continuity in the tradition" à la traditio means transmission, or legacy. The Roman Catholic Church, over its first centuries, defined its identity and doctrine within the tradition of the church, within a continuum of various interpretations, and revelations about the faith (see, e.g.). Many books attest to this conception of scholarship as a continuation of both the writing and transmission of Catholic legacies.

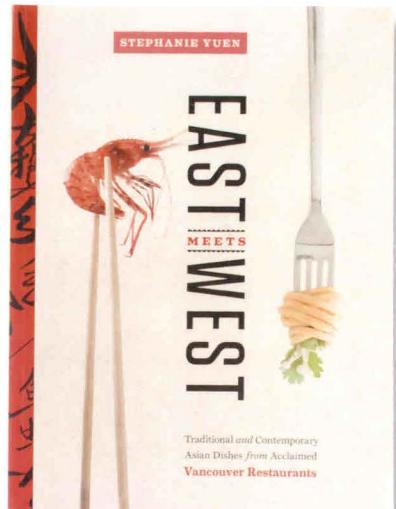

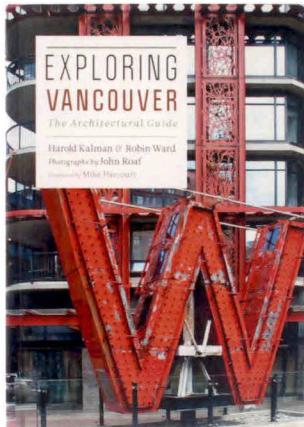

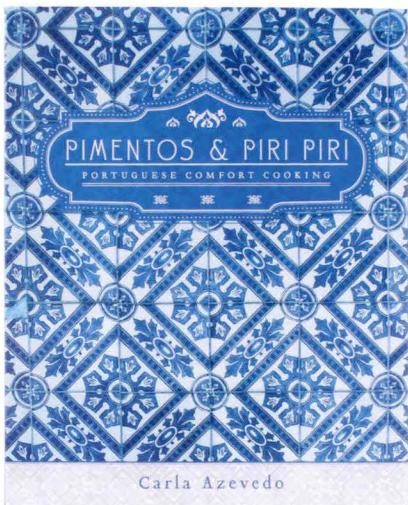

The most striking illustration of the Catholic tradition may well be the title page of the collection of Acta Sanctorum published in 1640 by the Society of Jesus.

Through its collections of council decisions, decrees of bishops, writings of the "Fathers of the Church," accepted dogmas, liturgical structures, and all the texts documenting its own history and theological discourses, the Catholic Church derives unity from the tradition and continuity with the tradition of the universal, never-ending library of its memory. The magnificence of the books themselves—often at large formats, and richly decorated in gold, adorned with full-page engravings as well as sophisticated initial letters—expresses the glory and splendor of the Church (see figs. 40–41).

A facsimile edition of Sébastien Coninckx's Acta Sanctorum (1640–1660).

Initiated by Joannes Bollandus (1596–1665), the scholarly compilation resulted from the efforts of the Society of Jesus to collect and collate a catholic's scripture and calendar. Pimentos & Piri Piri: Portuguese Comfort Cooking

This straight-forward, unpretentious design makes full use of the luscious photos to create a very appealing aesthetic. The smaller details are given great care as well, from the front matter to the folios and running footers.

Exploring Vancouver: The Architectural Guide

This guidebook is easy to use, and easy on the eyes. The typography is excellent, the section navigation is attractive and functional, and the scale and format perfectly suit the subject.

East Meets West

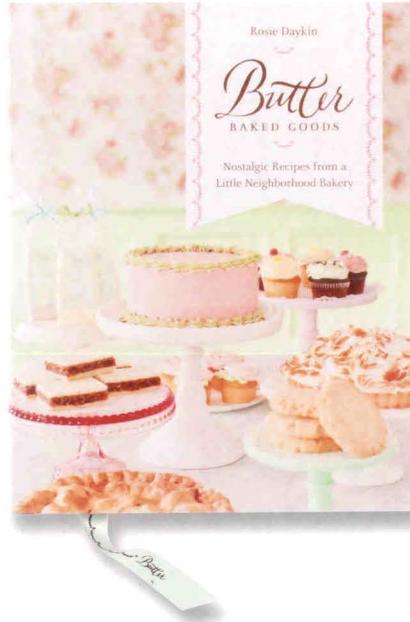

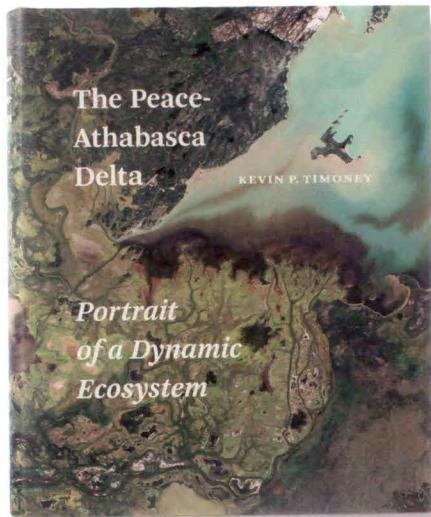

This book stood out for the quality of the photos, the typographic hierarchy and the clear section divisions, and the decorative elements that manage to be unobtrusive and functional. The judges also admired the type and composition of the cover—especially if that is, as it seems, a live prawn.

Butter Baked Goods: Nostalgic Recipes from Little Neighbourhood Bakery

Cynics may accuse this book of being “over-decorated,” but the judges felt the aesthetic choices were deliberate and successful. It has a very flowery, stereotypically feminine look that provides great visual variety. The effect created by the case-to-jacket relationship is striking, the end papers are perfect, and the type and photos show a very dynamic, strong affinity.

The Peace-Athabasca Delta: Portrait of a Dynamic Ecosystem

The judges were unanimous in their love of the elegant, understated cover of this book, the most “honest” in the group. The design shows restraint and modesty in the service of functionality, which is a smart choice for such complex material.

Pimentos & Piri Piri: Portuguese Comfort Cooking

Le design honnête et sans prétention fait plein usage des photos séduisantes afin de créer une apparence esthétique attrayante. Les moindres détails sont soigneusement achevés, des pages liminaires aux folios et aux pieds de page.

Exploring Vancouver: The Architectural Guide

Ce guide est facile à employer et agréable à regarder. La typographie est excellente, le système de navigation dans chaque section est fonctionnel et attrayant et l'échelle et le format conviennent parfaitement au thème.

East Meets West

Ce livre s'est fait remarquer par la qualité des photos, de la hiérarchie typographique et des éléments décoratifs qui réussissent à être discrets et fonctionnels. Les membres du jury ont aussi admiré les caractères typographiques et la composition de la couverture, en particulier, si comme il semble, il s'agit d'une crevette rose vivante.

Butter Baked Goods: Nostalgic Recipes from a Little Neighbourhood Bakery

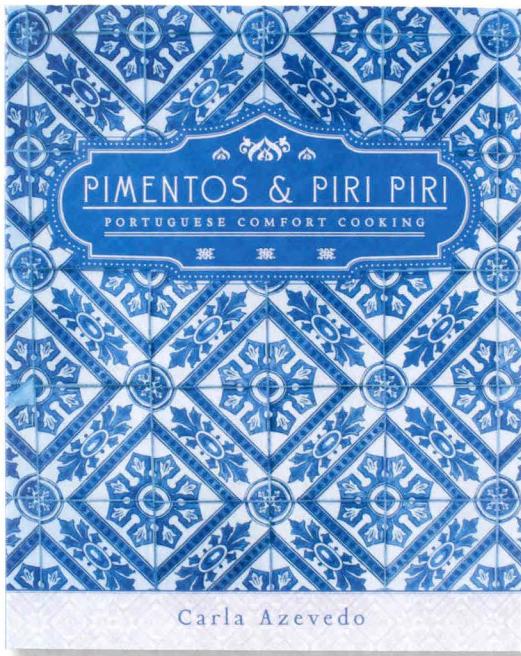

Les cyniques risquent de trouver que ce livre est trop décoré, mais les membres du jury ont estimé que le choix de la décoration était délibéré et réussi. Le style très fleuri, typiquement féminin, offre une grande variété visuelle. L'effet créé par la relation entre la couverture et la jaquette est saisissant, les feuilles de gardes sont parfaites et l'affinité entre les caractères et les photos est forte et dynamique.

The Peace-Athabasca Delta:
Portrait of a Dynamic Ecosystem

Les membres du jury à l'unanimité ont adoré l'élégante couverture de ce livre, le plus « honnête » du groupe. Le design démontre de la retenue et de la modestie au service de la fonctionnalité, un choix intelligent étant donné un matériel si complexe.

restrictions admitted only "racially appropriate" homeowners (racism aside); plans often indicate a small "Chinaman's room" in the basement.

The era preceding WWI was one of architectural revivals, the last flowering of traditions that emanated from classical antiquity, the Middle Ages and the age of Enlightenment. Architects offered their client's choice of historical styles. The one selected defined a homeowner's values and aspirations. The Tudor Revival brought associations of English landed gentry; the Roman Revival symbolized power, and the Arts and Crafts movement implied embracing modern ideals. "Modernism" had not yet entered the Canadian architectural repertoire.

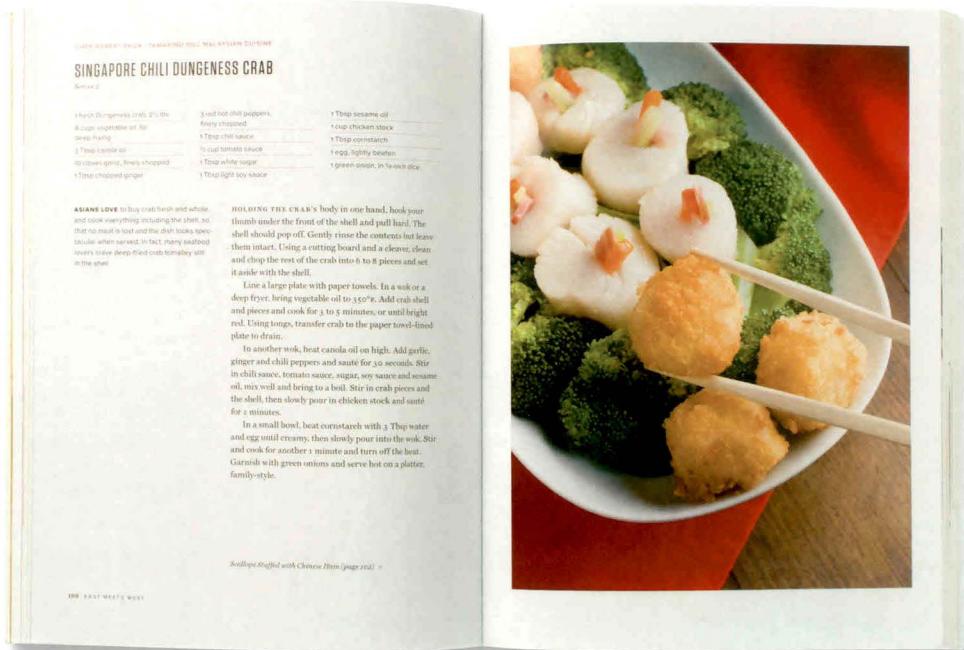

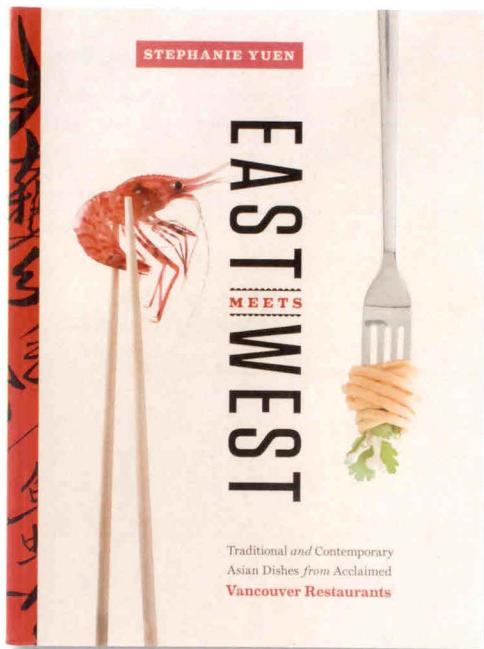

The aftermath of WWI brought a new order, including pressure for more affordable housing. In 1922, the provincial government responded with the Shaughnessy Heights Building Restriction Act, which limited the area to single-family homes and disallowed further division of properties. During the Depression, many residents could no longer afford to maintain expensive homes, and the area came to be known as "Poverty Hill" and "Mortgage Heights." Emergency legislation during WWII permitted conversion into rooming houses. Shared homes operating in 1953 could remain that way, but new rental suites were banned. The City of Vancouver's strict zoning (1958) continued to restrict change, although it permitted subdivisions as long as the new lots were at least 85 feet wide and 5,000 square feet in area—still very large by Vancouver standards.

Change was evidently necessary to meet the economic challenges of maintaining large houses and the new demographics that brought a variety of tastes. The First Shaughnessy Official Development Plan (1982) enabled one- and two-family infill dwellings, which provided revenue to the landowners. ("First Shaughnessy" is north of King Edward; "Second" and "Third" Shaughnessy are south of it and less exclusive.) Design guidelines for First Shaughnessy encourage "preservation of the Shaughnessy character," they encourage, but do not enforce, the preservation of authentic old buildings.

Architects and their clients have interpreted the plan and its guidelines in different ways. The treatment of both infill dwellings and new principal houses includes some that are truly in the spirit of the historical sources (11), others that try to do this but without success, those that adopt a gentle modernism that makes no waves (122) and a few that are boldly contemporary (110).

Figure 10.11. The Sweetgrass Landing area (1953, 1954). (a, 1954) A series of massive scars built by the Claire River as it was moved left to right across the photogram. Claire River is on the right (view to the west). The new channel is clearly visible. (b, 1954) An undisturbed Claire River and old-growth forest landscape. (c, 1960) The Sweetgrass Landing mill site (M), roads, and airstrip are evident. The confluence of the Claire River (C) with the Peace River has been obliterated. (d, 1957) After about 10 years of logging and Sweetgrass Landing mill site (M) was removed, the Peace River has returned to its original channel. (a, b, c, 1953, 1954, 1960, and d, 1957, reproduced with permission of the Canadian Museum of Natural Resources/Canso 2000, courtesy of the National Air Photo Library, 1950, reproduced with permission of Alberta's Sustainable Resource Development, Air Photo Distribution, copyright of the Government of Alberta.)

Blood (1996) noted that "the channel of the Claire River has been and is being used as a diversion channel for timber and timber-related enhanced snow removal over the years and has now blocked the channel completely." In 1993, Wood Buffalo National Park staff and participants in the Peace-Athabasca Delta Technical Studies began to discuss the possibility that the restoration of the Claire River and Peace River at Sweetgrass Landing could be restored. It was agreed that unblocking the Claire River channel should take place in order to enhance the ecological integrity of the site. Inspection of the site in December 1993 determined that restoration of the channel was feasible. A ground survey in August 1994 determined the elevations and depths of the disturbed channel over a distance of one kilometre. Five 'junk' piles of debris were mapped in the reach from 100 to 800 m from the Peace River. A dash pile filled the channel between about 800 to 1,000 m from the Peace River.

Dr. Yosef Wosk

Dr. Yosef Wosk and the Wosk family have generously assisted the Alcuin Society to expand the importance of the Alcuin awards for book design. With their financial help we have been able to improve the awards catalogue, bring judges from outside British Columbia, exhibit the awarded books throughout Canada and Europe, and make other enhancements to the programme. Dr. Wosk, with his ongoing financial support, enthusiasm, wisdom, and specific advice, has helped us to increase the awards from the relatively modest undertaking they once were to the internationally recognized national competition they are today. We are grateful to Dr. Wosk and his family for their continued support.

Yosef Wosk et sa famille nous ont beaucoup aidés à accroître l'importance du concours Alcuin pour la conception graphique du livre. Leur générosité nous a permis d'améliorer le catalogue des ouvrages primés, de faire venir des membres du jury d'au-delà de la Colombie-Britannique, d'exposer les livres gagnants dans tout le Canada et en Europe et de continuer à développer notre programme. Monsieur Wosk nous soutient toujours financièrement et contribue à l'expansion de notre entreprise par son enthousiasme, sa sagesse et ses conseils clairs et précis. Le concours de la Société Alcuin, dont la portée était au départ assez modeste, est aujourd'hui reconnu sur le plan national et international grâce à lui. Nous sommes reconnaissants à Monsieur Wosk et à sa famille de leur appui continu.

Geoffrey Spencer conceived the idea of the Alcuin Society, which he founded in Vancouver in 1965, along with Basil Stuart-Stubbs, C.M., Bill Duthie, Sam Black, Bill McConnell, Dale Smith and Sam Fogel. The initial aim of the Society was to promote a wider appreciation of fine books among book lovers around the world. It is the only non-profit organization in Canada dedicated to the entire range of interests related to books and reading. Amphora, the Society's journal published three times a year, covers topics that include authorship, publishing, book design and production, the history of the book, libraries, ephemera, bookselling, and book buying and collecting, as well as the book arts of typography, type design, printing, binding, papermaking, marbling, calligraphy and illustration.

The name "Alcuin" honours the memory of Alcuin of York (c. 735 to 804 A.D.), Abbot of St. Martin at Tours, a man who cared deeply about books and literacy. As Charlemagne's "Minister of Culture," and a respected teacher, Alcuin encouraged the study and preservation of ancient texts, and helped establish numerous schools and libraries, and contributed to the development of the lowercase alphabet.

To further its aims, the Alcuin Society engages in a wide range of educational activities—lectures, workshops, exhibitions and field visits, many in collaboration with educational institutions such as the Canadian Centre for Studies in Publishing at Simon Fraser University, the University of British Columbia, the Emily Carr University of Art + Design and the University of Victoria. The Alcuin Society Annual Awards for Excellence in Book Design in Canada is the only national competition of its kind that recognizes and celebrates the art of book design in Canada. Winners of this award represent the nation at the international exhibitions and competition at the Frankfurt and Leipzig Book Fairs held annually in Germany.

The Society offers the Robert R. Reid Award and Medal to recognize lifetime achievement in, or extraordinary contributions to, the Book Arts in Canada.

Geoffrey Spencer a conçu l'idée de la Société Alcuin qu'il a fondée à Vancouver, en 1965 avec Basil Stuart-Stubbs (C.M.), Bill Duthie, Sam Black, Bill McConnell, Dale Smith et Sam Fogel. Le but initial de la Société était de favoriser l'appréciation du livre de qualité parmi les bibliophiles du monde entier. C'est le seul organisme à but non lucratif au Canada, qui soit dédié à tout ce qui a trait au livre et à la lecture. Amphora, la revue de la Société, publiée trois fois par an, offre à ses lecteurs des articles divers sur la profession d'auteur, l'édition, la conception et la production graphiques, l'histoire du livre et de l'imprimé, les bibliothèques, l'éphémère, la vente, l'achat et la collection des livres, la typographie, la création de caractères typographiques, l'impression, la reliure, la fabrication et la marbrure du papier, la calligraphie et l'illustration.

Le nom « Alcuin » fait honneur à la mémoire de Alcuin d'York (c. 735 à 804 apr. J. C.), abbé de Saint-Martin de Tours, un homme qui s'intéressait profondément à la diffusion des livres et reconnaissait l'importance de savoir lire. Comme « ministre de la culture » de Charlemagne et professeur distingué, Alcuin encouragea l'étude et la préservation d'anciens textes, favorisa l'établissement de nombreuses écoles et bibliothèques dans le royaume et contribua au développement des lettres minuscules de l'alphabet.

Pour promouvoir ses objectifs, la Société entreprend un nombre considérable de projets pédagogiques, tels que des conférences, des ateliers, des expositions, des concours, dont plusieurs en collaboration avec le Canadian Centre for Studies in Publishing de l'université Simon Fraser, l'université de la Colombie-Britannique, l'université d'art et de design Emily Carr et l'université de Victoria. Le concours annuel des prix pour l'excellence de la conception graphique au Canada de la Société Alcuin est le seul concours national de son genre qui reconnaîsse et fasse honneur à la conception graphique au Canada. Les lauréats de ce concours représentent le pays lors des expositions et concours internationaux à la foire annuelle du livre à Francfort et à Leipzig.

La Société décerne le Prix et la Médaille Robert R. Reid qui récompensent l'ensemble des réalisations ou les contributions exceptionnelles d'un individu aux Arts du livre au Canada.
