

WRITING FOR READERS, COLLECTORS, DESIGNERS

Amphora, published by the Alcuin Society, appears three times a year with original articles about the reading, collecting and designing some of Canada's best-loved books.

- Issue 157 ambled down the Chautauqua trail and discovered the artistic visions of Markus Fahrner and Alasdair Gray.
- Issue 158 went fishing for books with Justin Hanisch and screened digital futures with George A. Walker.
- Issue 159 paid tribute to Glenn Goluska, publications for Japanese internees during the Second World War, and the music of the King James Bible.
- Issue 160 played up toy presses, looked at an illuminating evolution of The Origin of Species, and took stock of personal digital libraries.

Subscriptions, which include membership in the Alcuin Society, cost $50 a year for individuals and $75 a year for institutions. Students pay $25 a year (three years maximum).
