

Robert Bringhurst's A Story as Sharp as a Knife: The Classical Haida Myhtellers and Their World

SECOND EDITION · 5½ × 8½ inches, 544 pages · Spring 2011

is available in a special edition, limited to 50 copies.

"Bringhurst's achievement is gigantic, as well as heroic. [A Story as Sharp as a Knife] is one of those works that rearranges the inside of your head – a profound meditation on the nature of oral poetry and myth, and on the habits of thought and feeling that inform them."

— MARGARET ATWOOD, in The Times (London), reprinted in Writing with Intent

"Bringhurst, I believe, is one of the country's literary treasures, quite possibly a genius.... [His] great endeavour, the one by which he stands to be remembered, is A Story as Sharp as a Knife."

— NOAH RICHLER, This Is My Country, What's Yours?: A Literary Atlas of Canada

THIS BOOK was first published, to some clamor and acclaim, in 1999. The new edition – revised, updated, and entirely reset – incorporates fresh information from previously unavailable sources, better historical photographs, a new preface and a substantial new Political Afterword. ¶ The trade edition is published by Douglas & McIntyre in both Canada and the USA as an inexpensive, perfect-bound paperback and e-book only. In the belief that this is a volume of lasting importance – and that a text's best hope for longevity still lies in traditional bookmaking – we have arranged for a small edition that is sewn in signatures, rounded and backed by hand, and cased in quarter leather and cloth by Courtland Benson. ¶ Please note that this is not an edition de luxe. It is made from the same sheets as the trade edition. The typography is meticulous, but the printing is commercial offset. The paper is acid-free and Forest Council Certified, but it is the same inglorious substance used in the trade paperback. These, however, will be the only copies of this new version of the book that are (or ever can be) sewn and cased – thus the only copies built to last and the only copies that lie open for comfortable reading. They are priced to permit the recovery of actual costs and are expected to go quickly.
