GEORGE KUBERNAN

is the legendary graphic artist famous for the myriad of charming linoleum cuts that he made to decorate the pages of Amphora and other literary publications produced in Vancouver, including UBC's Canadian Literature and the B.C. Library Quarterly. From Czechoslovakia, he brought with him prodigious talent and a love for the graphic arts that is an integral part of Czech culture. The examples shown here are in the form of pages from an article about George that Amphora produced.
