

PREFACE

Anglo-Saxon Manuscripts in Microfiche Facsimile provides students and scholars with a fundamental tool in the field of Anglo-Saxon studies. The project aims to produce complete microfiche facsimiles of the nearly five hundred manuscripts containing Old English. Each issue or volume presents facsimiles and descriptions of about ten manuscripts prepared by one or more scholars. The facsimiles are in most cases produced from existing film stock provided by the holding libraries. New photography is limited to those manuscripts not yet photographed or poorly photographed. The images are up to the standards expected of good microfilm reproduction. Each description provides in brief compass the manuscript's history, codicological features, a collation, a detailed list of contents, and a selected bibliography. The descriptions are intended to be used with the photographic images to maximize their usefulness to scholars who do not have immediate access to originals or who may be unacquainted with the manuscript and its scholarship.

Manuscripts are reproduced in toto, even though the post-Anglo-Saxon material that is found as part of many of them may demonstrate no immediate or ultimate relationship with Anglo-Saxon interests. To have edited the facsimiles, presenting only confirmed Anglo-Saxon parts, might have eliminated important material to be noticed or discovered and in any case would remove the Anglo-Saxon vestiges from their actual material contexts. Users must decide for themselves the relevance of the images presented in this series. Several later manuscripts are included in this series even though they were not considered Anglo-Saxon by Neil R. Ker; in our view, these manuscripts have clear connections to undoubted Anglo-Saxon texts.

Each manuscript is assigned a main index number for this series; that number is given before the shelf-mark and always appears bolded and in square brackets after the shelf-mark when a manuscript in this series is mentioned in the body of a description. The index number is concorded with the catalogue numbers of Ker and Gneuss. A complete handlist of all manuscripts included in the project has been published in Vol. 15. An interim cumulative index of volumes 1–10 has been published as a separate volume (2006). An interim cumulative index of volumes 1–25 is planned; a final comprehensive index will follow the completion of the volumes of descriptions, now projected as about 43 in number. The manuscript descriptions, after being revised, will also be published as a separate publication towards the conclusion of this project. Users of these descriptions (and of the indices) are requested to bring any errors, omissions, or relevant new scholarship to the attention of the publishers or the editors.

The editors wish to acknowledge the following persons who kindly gave permission to use and publish the manuscripts in their care and provided help and advice during the course of the work: Pascal Rideau, Bibliothécaire, Bibliothèque Municipale, Arras; Agnes Chevalier, Conservateur, Bibliothèque Municipale, Angers; Benoît Tuleu, Conservateur en chef and B. Seguin, Conservateur, Bibliothèque Municipale de Boulogne-sur-Mer; Nicolas Ruppli, Conservateur, Bibliothèque Municipale, Dijon; Hélène Hamon, Conservateur en chef, Bibliothèque Intercommunale, Epinal-Golby, also her colleague Florence Bouvenet; Marie-Françoise Rose of the Bibliothèque Municipale, Rouen; Martine Le Maner, Conservateur de la Bibliothèque Municipale, Saint-Omer; Jean-Jacques Renaudet, Chargé du Développement Culturel et du Patrimoine, Ville de Sélestat and Hubert Meyer, Librarian of the Bibliothèque Municipale, Sélestat. Special thanks are due to Mme. Marie-Clotilde Hubert and Mme. Danielle Oppetit, Inspecteur Général des Bibliothèques in France, for their assistance and support where there was a problem of being granted authorization for access. We would also like to thank the I.R.H.T. and its staff for photographing and supplying microfilm of most of these items and for answering many questions.

The editors are grateful to Dr. Robert Bjork, Director of the Arizona Center for Medieval and Renaissance Studies at Arizona State University, Tempe, for agreeing to publish the project, and to his excellent staff, particularly Roy Rukkila, Todd Halvorsen, and Leslie MacCoull, who have been of much assistance with this and previous volumes.
